World Christianity

Professor Gordon Rixon, SJ

Every Wednesday for six weeks, starting from April 17 to May 22

11 am to 12:46 pm | $160 | Dual Delivery

The course draws on the distinction between mondalisation (transnational cultural pluralism) and globalisation (global monocultural hegemony) to explore the roles of religion and faith in discovering humanity's higher purpose and addressing systemic injustice. Focused through discussion of regional theologies in Asia and Africa and world-wide indigenous movements, the course engages interreligious dialogue to heighten awareness of encounter and social reconciliation. The discussion of indigeneity addresses the experience of residential schools in Canada.

Regis College is located at 100 Wellesley Street West, Toronto, near the corner of Queen's Park Crescent East. Regis College is on the 94 Wellesley TTC bus route and a short walk (south) from the Museum subway station. Public parking is available in the University of St. Michael's College parking lot on St. Joseph Street, one block north of Regis College. The venue is accessible.
